BASE CO ON NATIONAL RADIO HOOK-UP

Lt. Col. T. H. Watkins, Base Commander, will recount his experiences with Gen. Bob Montgomery's desert army on the "America in the Air" program, Sunday, August 20, from 1830 to 1900, over all CBS stations.

A veteran single-engine pilot, the CO will describe the hop-skip-and-jump tactics of the famous Afro-European American Air Force unit.

Military Band To Be Formed

A MAAF military band, composed of volunteer enlisted men, will be organized immediately, Lt. David I. Wash, Base Adjutant, announced today.

Designed to serve this post on all official ceremonies the band may receive a unit designation later, the Adjutant declared. Present plans call for a minimum of 15 soldiers who have had experience playing wind, brass and percussion instruments.

The Special Service Office will schedule all rehearsal periods to fit in within the normal working day of the volunteers. For further information call or visit the Special Service Office at Base Headquarters.

"Vet" Airman Awarded DFC

In a brief but impressive ceremony held in the office of Lt. Col. T. H. Watkins, Base Commander, Capt. Robert G. Brown, 24-year-old Ardmore, Pa., veteran pilot, was awarded the coveted Distinguished Flying Cross for valiant service during 90 combat missions in the skies of Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Prior to the presentation of the medal Lt. Davis I. Walsh, Base Adjutant read the citation which stated in part: "DFC—for extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flights as pilot of a P-40 type aircraft. On July 10, 1943, while leading his squadron on a patrol over the assault beaches at Sicily, Capt. Brown observed a large formation of ME 109's preparing to bomb Allied shipping. Unhesitatingly, Capt. Brown turned his flight to intercept the superior enemy force. Displaying great courage and tactical skill, his vigorous attack so confused the hostile aircraft that they jettisoned their bombs harmlessly into the sea. Then continuing to engage the formation, Capt. Brown shot down one ME-109 as his comrade forced the others to flee in great disorder from the battle area.

MAAF POST MOVIE SCHEDULE CHANGES

The Special Service Office announced this week that in the near future the scheduled presentations of movies at the GI cinema will be changed to meet the demands of base personnel.

The first tentative move will be to carry over the poorly attended Saturday show to Monday night. Other changes will be made in accordance with popular demand.

Ample notice of the revised film program will be made over the "PA" system and in the Daily Bulletin.

EYE-WITNESS ACCOUNT OF DARING SEA RESCUE

By LT. SIDNEY B. NEMAROW

Before my very eyes I witnessed, this week, the dramatic spectacle of a Navy pilot, Lt. j.g. R. M. Telfair, Pomona Air Station, plunging his plane into the choppy waters off Atlantic City, and saw the split-second timing of a Millville Army Air Field crash boat as it arrived at the scene of the near-disaster a few minutes later.

The ocean was rough the day I approached Skipper B. F. Elderd and told him that we would like to write a salty yarn about his sea-going soldiers. Weather-beaten fishing boats, pleasure vessels and Coast Guard cutters were anchored at their moorings, hesitating to venture forth this day. But, as a courtesy to the press and as his schedule called for a trial run on a new course, the skipper decided to chance a short cruise.

As we rounded the whistle-buoy separating the inlet from the ocean, the boat gathered speed and we began to ride the waves. For a while we hugged the shore and citizens on the boardwalk waved friendly greetings to us. We then veered sharply to the left and made for the open sea.

Rumbles From Within

As we ploughed the deep we bobbed and rolled with the waves. Ominous sensations suddenly began to undulate in my stomach. The ship listed violently and a mountainous wave cascaded gallons of salt water over the deck as I made a frantic dash to the starboard side. Even as I was rendering unto the sea I could observe no more than a half mile before us, a plane circle slowly and then suddenly crash violently into the ocean.

I forgot my personal discomfort and watched the precision operations of the crash boat personnel. As Skipper Elderd shouted his orders W/O V. A. Carroll, his first mate, executed his commands. Each soldier made a dash to his station. Every known fishing and human saving device emerged from hidden openings. The ship raced wildly to the plane. Three minutes later we saw a speck of yellow wallowing in the waves. Shortly thereafter we could discern the pilot floundering in his "Mae West", an embarrassed smile crossing his face. The skipper howled instructions to him through a megaphone. A few minutes later a rope was lowered and many helping hands were extended to bring him aboard. The Army had made a friend in the Navy, forever.

SS Office Seeks Talent For Show

A mammoth GI show, written, directed and acted by base personnel will be presented at Millville Army Air Field in early fall the Special Service Office announced today.

Latent talents, frustrated theatrical ambitions and neophyte footlight artists will be given a long-awaited opportunity for expression.

If you sing, dance, play an instrument, write, paint, or emote, register at once at the Athletic and Recreation Office.

MAAF Authorized Unit Insignia

Authorization was granted to Millville Army Air Field to adopt, subject to the approval of the Assistant Chief of Air Staff, a Base Unit insignia, which may be used for painting on aircraft, as a patch for wear on pocket of flight jackets, field jackets, coveralls and work uniforms, decorations of recreation buildings and for unofficial stationery, it was announced this week by the War Department.

In accordance with this authority, Capt. L. C. Davis, CO of the 135th Base Unit, urges all enlisted men and officers who have any talent for drawing to develop their ideas and submit the same to his office. The design best representing the purpose of this military installation will be forwarded to AAF headquarters for approval, Capt. Davis stated.

A proposed idea may be submitted as a finished drawing, a rough drawing, or a word description of the idea. Each insignia will be of a simple design and will not contain numerals, words or letters, the U.S. flag, the AAF insignia, the U.S. coat of arms or any part thereof, the complete coat of arms or motto of any state, country, arm of service or organization of the Army, geographical maps, military decorations or campaign ribbons, insignia of disbanded squadrons consolidated into base units.

GEN. HAWKINS PRAISES OUR EFFICIENCY

Brig. General J. R. Hawkins, Commanding Officer of the First Fighter Command, expressed his official pleasure at the low number of aircraft accidents at this base, Lt. Col. T. H. Watkins announced this week.

"It is felt that the efforts of the staff, instructor pilots and other supervisory personnel have contributed in no small amount to the high standard of flying safety which exists at your station," the General declared.

INFANTRY OCS GAINS AIR BASE ATHLETE

Sgt. Raymond Studwell, formerly "non com" in charge of Base athletic activities, was appointed to Infantry Officers Candidate School, it was announced this week by the Base Commander.

A native of New York City, Sgt. Studwell was graduated from Seton Hall College, N. J., and received specialized Army training at the AAF Physical Training School in Miami Beach, Fla.

Does America "Fight For Fun?"

A veteran pilot recently assigned to MAAF tells us that while in Italy he witnessed the interrogation of a Nazi prisoner. During the course of questioning the German soldier was able to give a rational explanation why Britain, China and Russia were fighting, but when asked about this country, he answered, "Oh, Americans—they fight for fun."

Perhaps the average Kraut is under the erroneous impression that we are fighting only for the fun of it. But, surely that feeling will dissipate as the full fury of American might is unleashed upon the Nazi Army and Germany itself.

The Axis will learn that Americans don't shout their concepts of democracy when they hurl themselves at their foe. Americans don't need the artificial stimulus of shibboleths or slogans. We know what we have, and we know what we will die for to preserve.

Just so long as each humble farmer, each toiling townsman can point to our Constitution and say, "there is the scepter of my sovereignty, just that long will we fight for our nationhood. Just so long as we can buy a jalopy for 15 bucks, and listen to the radio program we like, and tell City Hall what we think, and go to the polls every year, and worship God in the manner we see fit, will we carry on with the struggle. Let Germany and Japan lull themselves into the belief that we are fighting only for the "heck of it." It makes them feel better when our bombs and artillery make mince meat of them. If the Nazi meant, however, that "its fun to be an American and that is why we fight," then we gently doff our GI caps and reply—"ROGER."

By KATHERINE M. O'CONNOR
Base Librarian

The United States Armed Forces Institute has just issued a new catalogue complete with details of enrollment, a wider variety of courses, and a choice of study plans. At this time we pass on to you some of the information direct from the catalogue.

"The United States Armed Forces Institute is an official Army and Navy school operated under War Department authorization. The Institute brings off-duty educational opportunity to men and women in the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, and the Coast Guard. Whether you are an enlisted man or an officer, you are eligible to enroll in the Institute.

The program consists of four major divisions: Institute correspondence courses, University extension correspondence courses, Self-teaching courses, Off-duty classes.

What you study will depend upon what you want to learn. You may choose a course that picks up where you left off in high school. If so, you will find a broad offering of high-school courses. If you are working for a degree you can enroll for Institute courses of college grade, or for university extension courses offered by more than eighty colleges and universities through the Institute.

Academic Credit

One fee, $2.00, enrolls any enlisted man or woman for Institute self-teaching and correspondence courses. So long as you do acceptable work, you may continue to enroll for additional courses without further charge. The Government shares the cost of a university extension correspondence course with enlisted personnel. If you take a university extension correspondence course, the Government will pay half the text and tuition fee up to the amount of $20.00."

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from the Special Service Office and the Base Library.

Dear Editor:
"Hitch-hike or stay home!", seems to be the policy here at MAAF. I have waited at the entrance to the base for over an hour, sweating out some kind of a vehicle that could take me to town for my date. Most of the civilian vehicles leave the field at 5:00 P. M. and those of us who work until after dark are stuck. Could a Government vehicle be used to take us into Millville after working hours? I'm not the only "Knight of the Open Road", there are plenty of us.

Signed,
P. O.

Dear Editor:
For a long time I have been waiting and hoping, even suggesting to those who have some influence, that a building be built, where those of us who like to spend what little spare time we have in the evenings, can practice our hobbies, whether it is cutting out paper dolls, whittling or painting, which is my hobby. I do not believe that I am speaking only for myself, as I have seen signs of talent of one sort or another about the base. By having such a building I am sure that you would discover much talent that could be used in the "THUNDERBOLT", such as Cartoonists, Journalists, Photographers, etc., and thus help to make our paper the best in the First Air Force.

Signed,
Sgt. B. A. Olivarez

(ED. NOTE) Your recommendation will be submitted to HQ for review. We can use your talent on "THE THUNDERBOLT."

Dear Editor:
This is the most music-less base. How about a band, or music over the Public Address System, or anything to liven up our working hours.

Signed,
Joe Jive

FROM THE PULPIT

By Chaplain Horace M. King

There aren't many traditions of which this Base boasts. But at least one has carried the name of Millville Army Air Field to every station, post, or field at home and abroad.

That tradition is the provision for "God's Minute" daily. Every chaplain in every land has heard of this religious tradition of MAAF through a letter from the Chief of Chaplains.

Several have written asking about the details of the plan, and some have been sent samples of the messages which the chaplain prepares daily.

What is this reminder and suggestive encouragement meant to us on this base, the place of its "nativity?" Let us take advantage of this, our spiritual asset.

Like the spire of a chapel, or temple of worship, it calls, "Let us lift up our eyes and hearts unto our Creator and God."

It gives pause for spiritual refreshment.

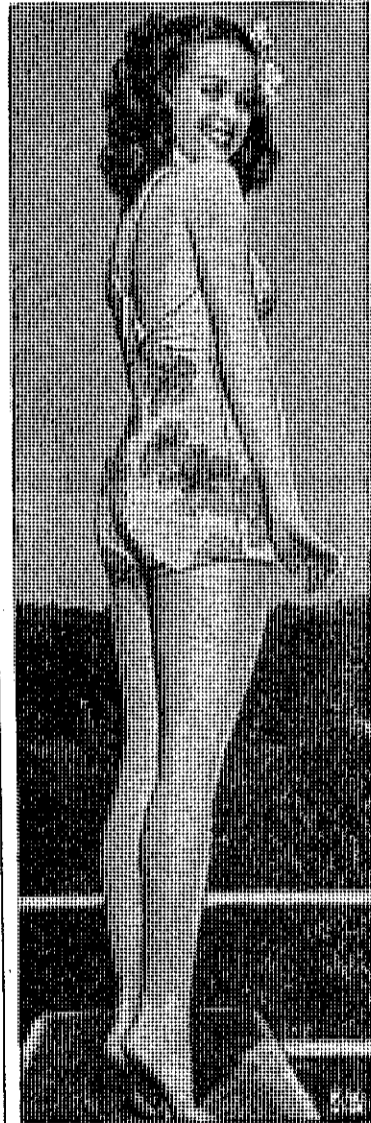

It gives suggestion for devotional meditation and yet it also allows latitude for any type of prayer.

It gives basis for at least one more fervent bond between those on the Field and their loved ones who may be distances away as they realize that daily, about noon, each prayerfully remembers the other in mutually selected experiences of worship.

It gives rise to satisfaction and soul cleansing in that it induces a strengthened fellowship with the Eternal Father, and calls for penitence and quiet praise.

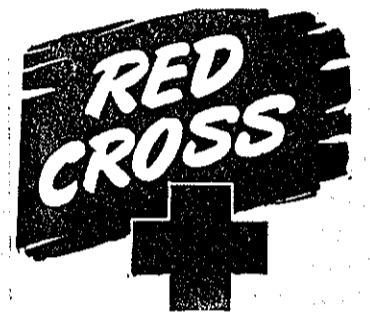

Let us make more unanimous and fruitful our use of the significant privilege which can help us all in spirit and deed. "God's Minute" is our opportunity. Listen for Church Call daily, and join in our worthy act of worship.

SCENE AT 'RANGE A' LAKE

Red Flier Is Top Ace

Russia (CNS)—Undisputed Allied ace of aces in World War II is Lt. Col. Alexander Pokryshkin, of the Soviet Air Force, who has downed 59 enemy planes.

To the thousands of American service men in German and Japanese hands, the American Red Cross means comfort, cheer and in many cases life itself, for vital medical supplies constitute a large portion of deliveries to prison camps. Deliveries are arranged and verified through the International Red Cross, a Swiss organization. Here are some excerpts from letters sent home by our boys in enemy hands:

From Stalag XVII B, Germany: "We received a Red Cross carload of clothing, shoes, cobbler's tools and equipment. Words cannot express our appreciation toward the Red Cross for our shipment."

The Red Cross maintains large food packing centers in Philadelphia, New York, and Chicago. Manned by volunteers, they turn out thousands of parcels a day. Deliveries to our boys in Germany have been well effected. Difficulty was experienced with deliveries to the Japanese camps, but is now steadily improving. This is due in large part to the cooperation of the Russian Government. Huge Red Cross supplies are stored in Vladivostok, Siberia, and large scale shipment to our boys in Japanese hands is expected very soon.

The "Red Cross Prisoner of War Bulletin", a monthly publication, contains many interesting reports and photos about the prison camps and Red Cross prisoner of war relief. Copies are on file at the American Red Cross office in Bldg. T-22. All personnel of this post are invited to come in and read them.

PILOT TO ENLIST WACS

When Capt. James H. Reuter-shan, 23, recently a Supervisory Pilot here, was blasting the Luftwaffe from the skies over the Mediterranean little did he dream that in August, 1944, he would be assigned to a WAC recruiting detail.

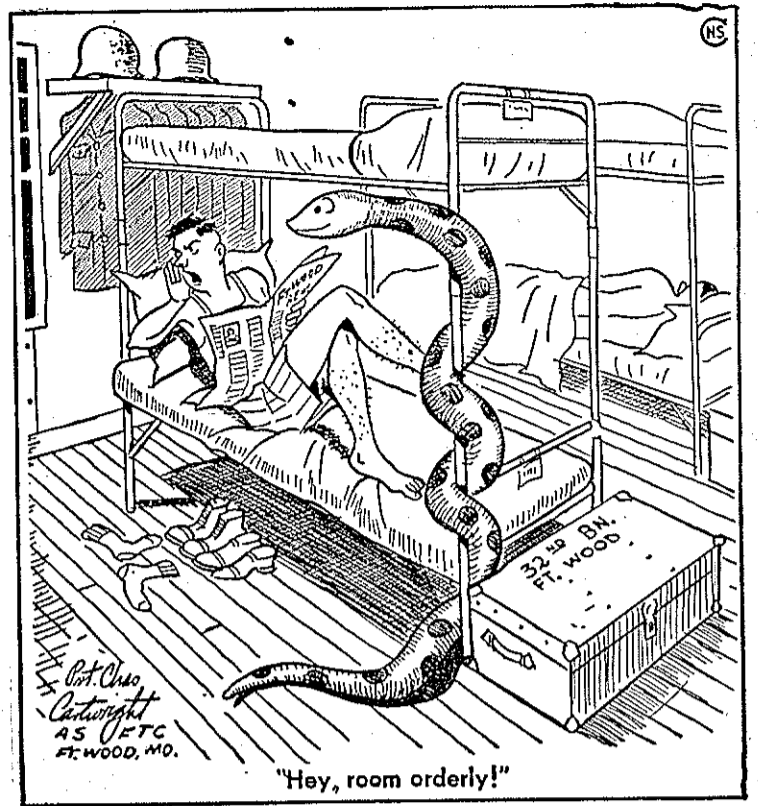

This week the dapper young airman, who fought in Africa, Sicily, Italy and aided in the epochal landings in Salerno, was detached to the 1st Service Command, Boston, Mass., for the purpose of aiding Uncle Sam in his Women Army Corps enlistment drive.

Before he left Capt. Reuter-shan stated that if he could do little more than describe to American womanhood how their European sisters are chipping into the battle for freedom he would feel that his temporary leave from the Air Forces was worthwhile.

OFFICER ASSIGNED OVERSEAS DUTIES

Lt. Douglas J. Titus, assistant Base Adjutant, has been assigned to overseas duty, it was announced this week by Lt. Col. T. H. Watkins, Base Commander.

Arriving at MAAF in November, 1943, Lt. Titus was assigned to general administrative duties and later became Provost Marshal. After the recent reorganization of the base he was named as assistant to Lt. David I. Walsh, the base adjutant.

INFANTRY OCS QUOTA HIGH

Enlisted men whose military ambitions reach for a commission in the U. S. Army can now achieve their goal by applying for Infantry Officers Candidate School, the War Department an-

MAAF-SPORTS LOG
By T/Sgt. Lamont R. Dickey

There's the whistle and here comes the kickoff. Yes, football fans, on August 30 that familiar phrase will open the 1944 football season. The spotlight will be on the game between the College All-Stars and the Chicago Bears to be played in the Windy City on that date . . .

Football will have it's place in MAAF sports, but it will be on a modified scale. The Base Physical Training Office has announced that a "touch football" league will be formed sometime in September . . .

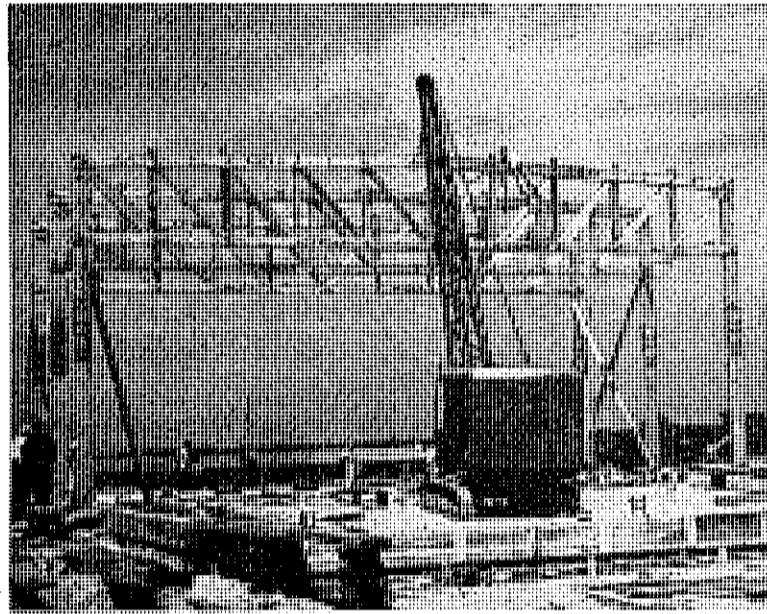

The tailspinning Flyers have set a record. In a recent game with the Kimco Club of Vineland they played a game without making one miscue. Now if the pitching and hitting can be improved, we might surprise everyone and win a game . . .

The Post Basketball team will get off to an early start next month. Regular practice sessions will be held in the new base gym. The season's opener is slated for December 7 at Mitchel Field. The following Monday will find the quintet playing host to the Owens-Illinois club in a dedication game at the new gym. A schedule of all the top-notch teams in this district is currently being completed. Definitely scheduled on a home and home basis are the following service teams: Dover Army Air Field, Army Service Forces at Ft. Dix, AAF Redistribution Station No. 1 of Atlantic City. Still in the tentative state are games with Langley Field, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Juniata College, Geneva College, City College of New York, La Salle College, Ursinus, and many other service and college teams. Located elsewhere on this page is a form for all potential candidates for the Post Basketball team to fill out. Clip this and send it to the Sports Editor, c/o The Thunderbolt . . .

The "Flyers" haven't won too many games, but they are to bat for the USO in Bridgeton. On Tuesday they will play a benefit game with the Bridgeton "Oldtimers" for that worthy organization. Among the stars of former years contacted for the game are "Goose" Goslin and Rube Oldring, World Series stars of a few years back . . .

MAAF lost a great leader this week when Sgt. Raymond Studwell left for Infantry OCS. Sgt. Studwell was responsible for getting us our first organized team in the world of sports.

The Post Gym Today

Modern Edifice To House Gym

It may not look like much now, but the picture on this page is the beginning of the new base gym scheduled for completion about September 1. The gym, a standard type for all army installations, will be a wooden frame structure 56 feet wide by 97 feet long. Actual playing surface for basketball will be 45 feet, 6 inches wide by 86 feet long. The building, running north and south, will have four entrances, one in each corner. A paved surface will be laid in front of the southern end with two walks, one on each side, leading to the entrances.

A finished hardwood floor will provide a fast surface for basketball, hand-ball and volley-ball. After completion, the new building will be used for dances instead of at the Post Theatre.

A balcony will be located in the northern end with an inside and outside stairway. The north-western section of the balcony will be used as an office and supply room by the Physical Training Office.

Approximately three hundred to five hundred spectators can be seated for basketball games. The present benches being used in the Post Theatre will be appropriated for this purpose. It is also hoped that a temporary bleacher can be built for the balcony for additional GI "rooters".

Among the conveniences to be found, after the building has had its finishing touches, will be shower rooms, lockers and rest rooms for both genders of the human race.

A clearance of twenty feet from the floor to the bottom of the beams will allow ample room for long shots in a basketball game.

Completing the structure will be a boiler room for providing heat and hot water. This will be located in a separate wing of the building on the north-west corner.

lected three hits out of three trips to the plate for a perfect day, and figured in three double plays that paved the way to victory.

LOSING STREAK OF "FLYERS" SNAPPED

Fighting with the fury of a P-47, the "Flyers" snapped their recent losing streak with a decisive 8 to 6 victory over the Owens-Illinois club of Bridgeton at the "Glassers" diamond on Tuesday evening.

With several new names in the lineup, the proteges of Lt. Pishioneri broke out in a 13 hit barrage that spelled defeat for the "Onized" aggregation.

Sgt. Harold Freeman returned to the mound for the first time in a month to gain the verdict. Recovering from a sore arm, the ace of the pitching staff, showed the form that he had in the early part of the season. He was in trouble only in one inning and quickly regained control to snap the hosts bid for victory.

"FLYERS" DEFEAT ELMER NINE

Taking up where they left off, Tuesday evening, the "Flyers" banged out 10 hits Wednesday to turn back the Elmer nine 6 to 5 on the latters field.

The Air Corps boys played heads up ball and nipped numerous Elmer rallies with sparkling double plays.

For a spell it appeared that the "Flyers" were going to slip back in their losing ways, but in the top half of the seventh with two men out, they pushed across three runs to take a 6-4 lead.

With darkness rapidly approaching, the army nine scotched the home team's bid to tie up the ball game, after they had scored one run to make the final score 6 to 5. Pvt. Joe Falatko was the winning hurler.

Diminutive Sgt. Tony Sagona led the base nine in their "invasion" against Elmer. He col-
